FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Among the President's appointments to West Point, promulgated to-day, is the son of Col. Crane, of Ohio, who was recently killed at Jackson, Mississippi.

FROM PARIS.

PARIS, June 24.—Prince Henry, of the Bourbon, a prominent candidate for the throne, has married Miss Payne, an American heiress.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Grant's present intention is very reliably stated to be to issue an election proclamation about the 10th of July, for an election in Mississippi on the 10th of September, and in Texas about the 1st of October.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, June 24.—Joseph Kelley, who was shot Thursday evening at the Registration office by policeman Captain Callahan, died this morning. His death created much feeling in the city, he having been held by three policemen while Callahan, who had a personal feud with him, shot him. Kelley was Vice President of the Seymour and Blair Club during the campaign and Callahan was an ex-Confederate officer, who had charge of a Confederate prison during the war, and since joined the Republican party. Callahan was today re-arrested.

Edward Fontaine, the proprietor of the Chesapeake and Ohio R.R., died to-day, at 161 years of age.

Gen. Canby orders that Callahan, who killed Kelley, be tried by military commission.

A Reminiscence.

An Olden Times Tell between Andy Johnson and Gus Henry.

The gubernatorial contest of '83 was a most hotly contested one. The Whigs, who had just carried the State for Scott, made strenuous efforts to retain their supremacy. The Democrats, on the other hand, were equally determined that Tennessee should take her place in the party that had so recently swept the nation in triumph. The champions, Henry and Johnson, manifested no less zeal than their respective adherents, and many were the thrusts and stunning blows exchanged "upon the stump." Their canvass closed in Knoxville. An immense crowd was present, and the excitement ran high, the confidence of the two parties differing little in degree. Andrew Johnson concluded the discussion. In closing he spoke about in this wise:

Fellow-citizens, it was with much reluctance and trepidation that I entered this canvass which is now brought to a close. I say trepidation, because the enemy having counted over the names of all their heroes and men of prowess selected my honorable competitor as the greatest of them all, and placed their banner in his hands. He was brought forth with flourish of trumpet, and heralded to the world as the "Eagle Orator." A man of my pretensions would well have been appalled, and one less timid than myself might, without cowardice, have shrunk from such an encounter. But fellow-citizens, I have been with this "Eagle Orator," throughout this contest. I have met him upon every stump from Johnson to Shelby, and now when I look upon him, turning to Mr. Henry, I see no flock at his back, and no blood upon his talons. The outburst of applause from the democrats, who were largely in the minority, was, of course, tremendous, but, quick as thought, Mr. Henry sprang to his feet, with lightning in his eye, and looking at least a foot taller than ever before, as his voice rang out like a trumpet: "Yes, fellow-citizens, the eagle is a proud bird and never deigns to prey upon a prairie chicken." If the shouts of the Democrats had been increased seven fold, they could not have been heard above the roar of thunder at that moment. To this day the Whigs who were present will insist that in that little encounter "Our Gus" got Andy badly. Andy could well afford it, however, for he got "Our Gus" badly at the ballot-box.

District Democratic Convention.

Agreeably to a Resolution of the Dist. Democratic Convention which met on the 9th inst., as also to the changed call of the 5th Dist., met in Convention at Gadsden on the 15th inst.

The Convention was called to order by Col. J. H. Caldwell, of Calhoun. See you, James Forman, chairman pro tem of the Convention, called to order. On motion F. M. Hardwick was called temporarily to the chair. On motion, the proceedings of last meeting were read.—J. W. Young member of the Convention as also of the State Ex. Committee, moved that the minutes of the meeting of the 8th be rejected; whereupon, an animated discussion ensued, participated in by Chancellor Foster of Calhoun, Col. Cooper of Cherokee, Col. Lowe of Madison, Col. Caldwell of Calhoun, and others.

Col. Woodliff of Etowah, in order that the Convention might go into the election of permanent officers, moved a postponement of the whole matter—which was carried—and the subject was not again resumed during the sitting of the Convention.

On motion of Col. Ellis of Cleburne and Calhoun, a committee of one from each county was appointed on permanent organization. The following named gentlemen were appointed on said committee: (Cooper, Ellis, Caldwell, Nicholson, Kyle, Loe, Woodliff, Benson, and Sheffield. Immediately after the adjournment of the above committee the Convention adjourned to half past one o'clock p. m.

At half past one o'clock P. M. Convention reassembled according to adjournment. Committee on permanent organization reported Col. James Sheffield of Marshall for President, F. D. Osborne of Jackson and F. E. Brandon of DeKalb for Secretaries.

On motion of Col. Lowe of Madison a committee of one from each county was then appointed on credentials. The committee reported and on return reported the following named gentlemen as Delegates from the several counties.

On motion of Col. Lowe, Editors and Reporters of Democratic papers, as also, Col. Joe H. Francis of the State Ex. Committee were invited to seats on the floor.

A motion of Col. Griffin of Marshall, a call of the counties was had in order that each county might place the name of its favorite candidate before the convention.

Col. Cooper of Cherokee, presented the name of Col. Rattay of Cherokee.

B. H. Nicholson, Esq., presented the name of Col. Wm. O. Winston of DeKalb.

Col. Lowe of Madison, presented the name of Hon. Peter M. Dox, of Madison. The Convention then proceeded to the ballot. After 36 ballots without an election the Convention adjourned at 6 o'clock, until 8 o'clock next day.

JUNE 19th, 8 o'clock, A. M. Convention reassembled agreeably to adjournment. Convention called to order, and on roll of counties being called, all were found to be present except St. Clair. On motion of Col. Cooper, the reading of the minutes was dispensed with and the convention proceeded at once to ballot. On the 27th ballot, Hon. Peter M. Dox, of Madison received 24 votes.—Twenty-two only being necessary to a choice, the chair announced Hon. Peter M. Dox duly nominated by the convention as the standard bearer of the Democracy of the Democracy of the 5th Dist. in the approaching Congressional election. On motion of Col. Cooper, the nomination was made unanimous. Col. Cooper then favored the convention with a most beautiful eulogy of the nominee, and pledged himself and his favorite, Col. Rattay, to yeoman service in the cause during the contest.

Col. Hardwick, of Cherokee, also pledged a hearty support, and prophesied the triumphant success of the orthodox Peter M. Dox.

On motion of Col. Caldwell, a committee of one from each county was appointed to notify Mr. Dox of his nomination.—The chair appointed on that committee: J. H. Caldwell, Chm., R. B. Kyle, T. B. Cooper, Wm. Griffin, Benj. Snodgrass, B. H. Nicholson and G. C. Ellis.

On motion of Col. Lowe, a vote of cordial thanks was extended to the officers of the convention for their able, patriotic, and dignified conduct during the setting of the convention.

On motion of Col. Cooper, the thanks of the convention was tendered the Baptists of the community for the use of their house of worship.

On motion of L. B. Osborne, a Dist. Ex. Committee, composed of one from each county was elected. Each county at once proceeded to nominate a committee man, and the following gentlemen were unanimously chosen: J. H. Moore, of Marshall, J. Pratt, of Cherokee, W. O. Winston, of DeKalb, James Crook, of Calhoun, James Jordan, of Jackson, A. L. Woodliff, of Etowah, M. L. Tinsion, of Cleburne, James Foreman, of St. Clair, and W. D. Humphrey, of Madison.

On motion of Col. Cooper, of Cherokee, the Secretary was instructed to furnish the minutes of the convention to the GADSDEN TIMES for publication, and other Democratic papers of the Dist., as also the Scottsboro Herald, (an agricultural paper) requested to copy therefrom.

On motion of Wm. Griffin, of Marshall, the convention adjourned.

Passing by Patina a few days ago, I overheard an amusing conversation between the humorist, Warren Harris, of this county, and a fellow traveler. The question was asked if the streets of Patina were not infested in winter? Warren replied, that he had been in it was not so wet in winter that it would mire the shadow of a turkey buzzard.

Persons using lamps will find by putting the chimneys, before use, in a kettle of cold water, heat to boiling, and then cool gradually. It will prevent them in a great measure from cracking. This plan has been tried with great success.

"John, John," shouted an old gentleman to his son, "get up; the day is breaking!" "Very well, said John. "Get it, break it; it owes us nothing." Interval of twenty minutes. "John, John, the sun is before you." "Very well," said John, "he has farther to go than we have."

The question why printers do not succeed as well as brewers is thus answered: Because the printers work for the head, and brewers for the stomach—and where twenty men have stomachs, but one has brains.

How few avail themselves of the great benefit they could derive from domestic manures! The barn yard, the leached ashes, wood piles, fence corners, where manures have been accumulating for 20 years, ditch banks, the rich virgin soil in close proximity to the hills from which it slid, the rich muck on the creeks in continuity to their farms, daily come under our observation, and yet we will not profit by their use. How promotive of health, if these things were removed, to the fields to contribute to our wealth, instead of being a nuisance.

The best gardeners look out for the turnip fly about as soon as they sow their turnip seed. They use lime, tobacco dust, or soot mixed with read-dust or leached ashes, which they scatter over the turnip-beds, morning and evening, for the first week after sowing the seeds.

PAINS AND ACHES, AND IN THE GREAT RHEUMATISM LINIMENT.

Read These Lines and Ponder Them Well.—The best tests of the merits of any proprietary article is to ascertain what is thought of it at home where it is manufactured. A test Ippion's Pyralis can well stand, as to-day it is decidedly the favorite remedy for chills and fever, Zangue and other diseases of a malarious origin, in the city of Savannah, where it is prepared. The principal druggists of the city would as much think of doing without codor oil in their stores as to be without this pyralis (and deservingly so) remedy. It is a valuable preparation free from deleterious drugs, and acts as a tonic upon the entire system, thereby invigorating the system so much so as to enable it to throw off disease. Pyralis does not nauseate or sicken the patient, and can be taken by the most delicate person without fear. It should always be at hand, as chills and fever creep upon us so stealthily that we are not aware of its approach until it is upon us. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Letter from Maj. J. T. Hester of Ala.

Messrs Joun Dancy & Co., 161 William St., N. Y.

Gentles—I have received so much benefit from Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, that I feel it my duty to let you know it. I had an attack of Typhoid Fever, and with it a most stubborn case of Erysipelas, and was confined to my bed near two months, suffering the most intense pain all the time from Erysipelas, and after exhausting the many prescriptions of my physician, he finally commenced the use of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, and soon found that it was being improved by its use and continued to use it, and an nearly well. I consider it the most valuable medicine for the diseases and purposes for which it is made that is sold. I also used it most successfully on my little son who was severely burnt, and I do assure you, that it was from this medicine alone that I could get any relief from my distressing attack of Erysipelas.

I do not write you this as a certificate for publication, but as a duty that I feel I owe to Prof. Darby and his invaluable medicine.

I shall never be without it again if I can by any possible means get it.

I hope you are succeeding, and will make a fortune.

Very truly yours, J. T. HESTER.

FOR CONGRESS FROM THE 5TH DISTRICT

HON. PETER M. DOX, OF MADISON.
Nominee of the Democratic District Convention.

Register and Vote.

The large space occupied by the list of voters, required by law to be published, excludes our usual variety this week, for which we will make ample amends in the future.

All who have not yet registered, can do so, up to within three days of the election, by applying to the Judge of Probate.—It is true the arrangement of the precincts will make it inconvenient for some to vote; but we hope that this, instead of discouraging them, will but nerve them to a more stern determination to exercise this inestimable privilege of a freeman. (Give one day to your country, friends, and then, if you should not get your choice in the election, you can bear disappointment with more patience, sustained by the proud consciousness of having done your whole duty. The Democratic majority in this District is estimated at from 2,000 to 2,500.

Democratic Victory in Virginia.
The Democrats have elected Walker, Governor by a large majority; and a majority of 61 members on joint ballot.

Examination Exercises in Jacksonville Female Academy.

The last session of this Institution closed by an examination of the pupils on the 1st and 2nd July, 1869. The Academic department, under charge of Rev. D. P. Smith, Principal, and Miss F. W. Fullenwider. The primary department, mostly in charge of Miss M. J. Broyles.

The exercises evinced thorough study and decided improvement in learning and discipline, and all the classes acquitted themselves in a manner highly creditable to themselves and teachers.

At the close of the exercises the resignation of the Principal was announced, followed by an interesting and appropriate address by Rev. Mr. Meredith, of Montevallo.

A silver Goblet was presented to the Principal, Rev. D. P. Smith, by fourteen of the young ladies, as a testimonial of their affectionate gratitude for his faithful and efficient services, and their regret in parting with him as Teacher. The presentation was made by Miss M. A. Forney, who delivered an interesting and appropriate address, which was responded to in a feeling and eloquent manner by the Principal, producing quite an affecting scene. We may mention here also, that upon the occasion of the reception of the resignation of the Principal, by the Trustees some days previous, that body passed a hearty and unanimous vote of thanks to him for his faithful, efficient and successful services; and also a vote of thanks for his diligence and fidelity in superintending the repairs of the Academy, the erection of an additional building, and other improvements.

On Friday night the young ladies gave an amusing and interesting exhibition, consisting of Tableaux and Choralades, interspersed with musical performances on the Piano, by Mrs. M. E. Francis and her music class, in which the young ladies acquitted themselves with great credit.

In closing this brief notice, we think it not inappropriate to announce to the public, that Miss Fullenwider and Miss Broyles will continue in the Academy as teachers, and Mrs. M. E. Francis as Music Teacher, and that the place of Principal has been filled by the election and acceptance of Dr. T. Harrison of Dallas, a gentleman who is well and favorably known to many of our citizens, and who comes highly recommended for his thorough scholarship, and his zeal, fidelity and industry as an experienced and successful teacher.

We think we may safely say that no session of our Female Academy has closed under more favorable auspices—with more entire satisfaction on the part of its patrons and friends, with the rapid and substantial improvement of its pupils; and with the competent and accomplished teachers now engaged, has it ever had brighter prospects for the future? Let unity of action, and liberal and generous patronage, make it indeed an institution of which we may justly be proud, and which we can truly and heartily love and cherish.

Consmithing.—Persons having work in this line are respectfully referred to the advertisement of Mr. Baysiegel, who comes among us highly recommended as a first class workman. It needs no argument to prove that it is both the duty and interest of every citizen to encourage home manufactures and home enterprize of every description. Mr. B. warrants all his work.

Geo. I. Turney, Esq., delegate to the Railroad convention at Lafayette Ga., which had for its object the construction of a Road from Chattanooga to Pensacola, has returned and expresses great confidence in the success of the enterprise.

This road will pass Lafayette and Summerville, Ga., Jacksonville and Wetumpka Ala., connecting with the Pensacola Road at Montgomery. In consequence of the large space occupied by the list of registered voters, we defer publishing the proceedings of the meeting until next paper.

The Atlas Mutual Life Insurance Company of Saint Louis Mo., is fast becoming one of the Institutions of the country.—Capt. Renfro, the Agt. for this Dist., is about establishing an Office in this place, making it the "Head Quarters" for the District.

The reader will find in our advertising columns, the notice of Judge Renfro, (the Republican candidate) of appointments for speaking. Judge P. M. Dox, the Democratic candidate, informed the Editor of the Jacksonville Times that he would be with him at Gadsden on the 15th, and if so, we think it highly probable he will be here on the 17th.

Letter of Acceptance.

MADISON COUNTY, ALA.,
June 25th, 1869.

Gentlemen—Your letter advising me of my nomination as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fifth Congressional District of Alabama, by the Convention which assembled at Gadsden, on the 18th inst., was duly received. Absence from home, for several days, and the illness, since my return, of a member of my family, have prevented its earlier acknowledgment.

The nomination by your Convention, having been made, as I am advised, in subordination to the maintenance of Democratic organization, and especially, to the agency of the great political principles which is the object of such organization to perpetuate, I cheerfully consent to the use of my name as the Democratic candidate for Congress in this (the 5th) district, and will, so far as possible, endeavor to secure the ratification of my nomination by the people in the election to take place in August next. Regarding the faithful recognition and the speedy reassertion of the constitution of the United States, as understood and expounded by the Democratic Fathers of the Republic, as the only hope of civil and political freedom, it affords me sincere gratification to learn, that neither the deliberations of your Convention, nor its decision in the selection of a candidate, were influenced by reason, in any sense, discolored by motives of a selfish character. Had such been the case, however gratifying the compliment of a nomination emanating from a Convention made up of those who represented, as did the members of your Convention, the intelligence, the patriotism and, as I confidently believe, a large majority of the people of the District, I should have felt compelled to decline the position to which you have assigned me.

Having signified my consent and purpose, to become the Democratic candidate for this Congressional District, it may not be improper, in the absence of resolutions of any kind by the Convention indicative of its views upon such question as are likely to invite the attention of a member of Congress from Alabama, at the present time, briefly to refer to the political character which your candidate has hitherto maintained, to the political principles, which, in the past, he has professed, which he still maintains, and in the future will endeavor to promote, and, in a general manner, to the course which, if elected, he has marked out for his guidance upon all subjects of legislation more immediately affecting not only those who will be his immediate constituents, but affecting the people of the entire South. In thus presenting my views—which will be given without reference to platforms of any kind, no matter by whom, or in what form they may have been prescribed—and passing by all temporary or local issues, which have already been disposed of, or which are not likely to invite the attention of your representative in Congress, I shall satisfy myself, and, as I trust, receive the approval of the people of the District, by confining myself to living issues, and to questions which are practical in their character.

Whatever my early political relations, I have ever adhered to the great Democratic principles in which I was educated, and am now, and for many years have been, a member of the Democratic party. I am, therefore, unambiguously of political disaffiliation for any official position for which I might be designated by the members of that party.

With God's help, it shall be my purpose, if elected to Congress, to do whatever shall be in my power to restore and secure to the people of this District, and of the entire South, all the political rights, of which by vindictive and mistaken and unconstitutional legislation, they have been unjustly, and for our whole country, unhappily deprived. This, in my opinion, can only be best done by the immediate removal of every political disability which has been imposed upon them. It will also be my determination, if elected, by all proper means which I can command, by conciliation, by argument, by legitimate appeal of any kind, to endeavor to persuade every fair mind in Congress to shake off its prejudices against our people, and to yield its distrust of their fidelity to the Government and its administration, which justly and constitutionally conducted.

It will also be my endeavor to invoke the sympathy and support of Congress, for such earnest efforts as in co-operation with others, it shall be in my power to make, for the increase of our population, by the passage of Constitutional laws for the encouragement of immigration for the maintenance of the civil rights of all our people; and for the rapid development of the immeasurable prosperity which will surely follow from the improvement of our magnificent rivers, the opening of the hidden treasures, surpassing in value even our cotton crop, the advancement of our agriculture, the appropriation of our unequalled water power to the manufacture of fabrics from the great staple production of the South.

Sharing with my fellow citizens in the oppressive burdens of taxation, which, as I am advised, have been more than trebled by the extraordinary legislation of the peculiar and strange dynasty in whose hands have been entrusted (as we all have long for a long time, the political destinies of Alabama, it will be my earnest purpose, if elected, to lessen those burdens by advocating a more just distribution of taxes, and by the reduction of the expenditures of the Government, so monstrously in excess of the demands of public necessity and of all former national expenditures in this country, and inviting alike to prodigal in administration, while supplying almost to hoards of political adventurers, as in attitude in their purposes of public plunder as they are destitute of any recognition of the obligations of patriotism or of personal integrity.

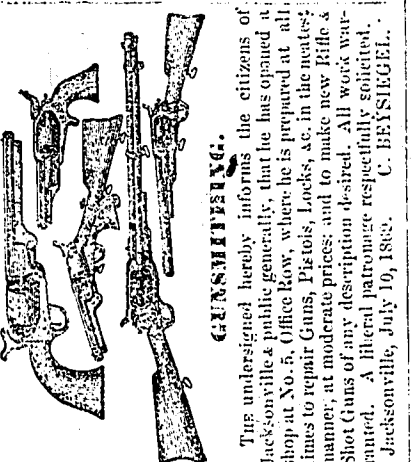

Pursuing a line of policy and of conduct, having these objects steadily in view, it would at the same time be my purpose, if elected, to reflect with fidelity in my action on all political questions, the opinions and principles of those by whom I should be chosen. Nor need I add, except for the satisfaction of such as do not know me, that I shall also cheerfully respond to any appeal for aid which, by reason of my official position, it might be in my power to render to any worthy person of whatever party, who should reside in the district which I represented. Always a Union man, and, as I think, consistently maintaining the character of a Union man, but, nevertheless, ever the devoted friend of the Southern people in the personal trials of their late struggle, and in the trial—far more humiliating—of present political condition, I shall continue to be their friend in whatever circumstances of adversity or of prosperous fortune, they may be placed. Springing, as I did from a Southern stock, the tie of kindred running through almost every Southern State, and the ties, if possible, of even more tender affinities, have knit me to the Southern people with knots stronger than those of steel, and by bonds dissoluble only in death. Here I have resided for nearly fifteen years. Here is what little property I have left me by the late war, and here, sharing with my fellow-citizens whatever of happiness or of sorrow the future may have in store for them, I hope when my humble mission shall be executed to close my earthly career. Should I prove unfaithful, therefore, to any public trust reposed in me by those among whom I live, I should stand self-condemned of conscience to every political and moral principle in which I have been educated, and to the instincts of my nature, which can but revolt against whatever policy in government, or dogma in morals, shall fail to recognize the supremacy of my race, or the equality in any sense involving civil or political rights—of the State of Alabama, and the people of that State, with every other State and people.

You will find I think, Gentlemen, in what I have here written, that the political relations of your candidate for Congress sufficiently defined, and an equally distinct declaration of the principles by which his conduct will, if he should be elected as your Representative, be guided. My personal character, must furnish the guarantee of my fidelity to those principles. "Is he honest? Is he capable, and is he faithful to the Constitution?"—are questions which constitute the Jeffersonian, and truly Democratic test, by which all who are candidates for public office should be judged! Let that test be applied by the people to myself and to all who are candidates for their suffrages and I cannot doubt that the great Democratic principles which underlie all free Constitutional Government will be amply vindicated by the result of the ensuing Congressional election.

Thanking you, Gentlemen, for the kind and courteous manner in which your letter has communicated the fact of my nomination, I am, with sincerest respect, Your friend and fellow-citizen.
PETER M. DOX.

READ THESE LINES AND POSSESS THEM WELL. The best test of the merits of any proprietary articles is to ascertain what is thought of it at home where it is manufactured; such a test Lippman's Pyraline can well stand, as to-day it is decidedly the favorite remedy for chills and fever, dumb ague and other diseases of malarious origin, in the city of Savannah, where it is prepared. The principal druggists of the city would as much think of doing without castor oil in their stores as to be without this popular (and deservedly so) remedy. It is a vegetable preparation free from deleterious drugs, and acts as a tonic upon the entire system, thereby invigorating the system so much so as to enable it to throw off disease. Pyraline does not nauseate or sicken the patient, and can be taken by the most delicate person without fear. It should always be at hand, as chills and fever creep upon us so stealthily that we are not aware of its approach until it is upon us. A word to the wise is sufficient.

ADAMS, ALA., April 4, 1869.

Messrs JOHN DARBY & CO.

161 William St., N. Y.

GENTS—I have received so much benefit from Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, that I feel it my duty to let you know it. I had an attack of Typhoid Fever, and with it an attack of Erysipelas, and with it a most stubborn case of Erysipelas, and was confined to my bed near two months, suffering the most intense pain all the time from Erysipelas, and after exhausting the many prescriptions of my physician, I finally commenced the use of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, and soon found that I was being improved by its use, and continued to use it, and am nearly well. I consider it the most valuable medicine for the disease and purges for which it is made that is sold. I also used it most successfully on my little son who was severely burnt, and I do assure you that it was from this medicine alone that I could get my relief from my distressing attack of Erysipelas.

I do not write you this as a certificate for publication, but as a duty that I feel I owe to Prof. Darby and his invaluable medicine.

I shall never be without it again if I can by any possible means procure it.

I hope you are succeeding, and will make a fortune.

Very truly yours,
J. T. HESTER.

KNOWLEDGE. June 30.—There was a large number of interested spectators

in Clinton today to hear the discussion between the candidates for Governor.

The discussion was mainly the same as at other points in the East. Tennessee was the main subject.

There was a large number of people present, and the discussion was very interesting.

Gov. Stewart said that he would not be in the meeting until after the election.

There was considerable excitement about the affair, and great curiosity to know how it would end.

Oliver Williams, who has 200 acres of wheat growing near Warren, Tenn.,

has just sold his crop for $12,000.

He is said to be the largest grower of wheat in the State.

The New York Tribune, a short time since in reply to a letter written by Henry

W. Bennett, of New York, said that it was to account for the fact that the Tennessee people are so much interested in the election.

These men continue for political possess. They propose to keep alive the war of the Tennessee people.

They mean to control the Tennessee people, to perpetuate in our civil system the bitterness of war. We believe the people should receive abundant reward.

When a soldier and a civilian apply for office, all things else being equal, we should prefer the soldier. But we dislike this privilege, and especially we dislike this getting into a corner and having power and grip, and making an exclusive class.

Washington foresees this when he opposed the Society of the Cincinnati.

He saw in the association the first step toward an aristocracy, and he led to it with his hand.

What Washington said should be remembered. There is an association now in Tennessee, which purports to keep alive the memory of the great war.

It is called the Society of the Cincinnati. It is a very large association, and it is very powerful. It is a very large association, and it is very powerful. It is a port that the President is with the Conservative Republicans. The politics of the States of Texas and Mississippi have been making every possible effort to get the most influential of the administration on their side. Thus far, however, the President has stood aloof, and this gives verity to the report that he was only waiting the result of the contests in Virginia. That result being now ascertained, the policy of the administration in the South is in doubt. With the Conservative Republicans, and

Judge Hunt's course, referred to the above, the report of certainty, so far as the President himself is concerned, is now a question. How far the President will go, however, is a question for the future to determine.

B. F. WYLY,

PROFESSOR OF

POETRY.

The Children.

BY CHARLES DICKINSON.

When the lessons and tasks are all ended,
And the school for the day is dismissed,
The little ones gather around me
To bid me good night and be kissed;
Of the little white arms that encircle
My neck in their tender embrace,
Of the smiles that are halos of heaven,
Shedding sunshine of love on my face.

And when they are gone, I sit dreaming,
Of my childhood, too happy to last,
Of love that my heart will remember
While it wakes to the pulse of the past:
E'er the world and its wickedness made me
A partner of sorrow and sin;
When the glory of God was about me,
And the glory of gladness within.

Of my heart grows as weak as a woman's
And the fount of feeling will flow,
When I think of the paths steep & stony,
Where the feet of the dear ones must go;
Of the mountains of sin hanging o'er them—
Of the tempests of Fate, blowing wild,
Of there's nothing on earth half so holy
As the innocent heart of a child!

They are idols of hearts and of households;
They are angels of God in disguise;
His sunlight still sleeps in their tresses;
His glory still gleams in their eyes;
Of those trants from home and from heaven,
They have made me more manly and mild;
And I know, now, how Jesus could liken
The kingdom of God to a child.

I ask not a life for the dear ones
All radiant, as others have done,
But that life may have just enough shadow
To temper the glare of the sun;
I would pray God to guard them from evil,
But my prayers would bound back to myself;
Ah! a sinner may pray for a sinner,
But a sinner must pray for himself.

The twig is so easily bended
I have banished the rule and the rod;
I have taught them the goodness of knowledge,
They have taught me the goodness of God;
My heart is a dungeon of darkness
Where I shut them for breaking a rule;
My frown is sufficient correction;
My love is the law of the school.

I shall leave the old house in the autumn,
To traverse its old threshold no more;
Ah! how I shall grieve for the dear ones
That meet me each morn and the door!
I shall miss the "good nights" and the kisses,
And the gush of their innocent glee,
The group on the green, and the flowers,
That are brought every morning to me.

I shall miss them at morn and at even—
I shall miss in the school and the street;
I shall miss the low hum of their voices,
And the tramp of the delicate feet.
When the lessons of life are all ended,
And death says, "The school is dismissed!"
May the little ones gather around me,
To bid me good night and be kissed.

The Blue Ridge Railroad.
R. K. Scott, Governor of South Carolina, and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Blue Ridge Railroad, has advertised for proposals from contractors to complete the road from Anderson, South Carolina to Knoxville, Tennessee, a distance of one hundred and fifty-two miles. Payment for the work is to be made in the seven per cent first mortgage bonds of the road, principal and interest payable in coin, and guaranteed by the State. Proposals will be received, until the eight of this month.—Chron. & Sen.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN DECATUR.—A GHOST APPEARS IN DAY-TIME, WHISPERS, TALKS, AND GOES THROUGH A SOLID WALL—MEN WATCH AT NIGHT FOR IT, ARMED TO THE TEETH.—The town of Decatur has been startled from its quietude by the appearance of a ghost in its midst. The ghost has chosen for its theatre of action a small school-house, to the great consternation of the school-mistress and the pupils. This ghost seems to be enigmatica, for it appears in broad daylight, and not at midnight's mystic hour. The schoolmistress hears it whisper in her ear, but can see no bodily presence. When spoken to it answers back, and when threatened with being shot, tauntingly defies the braver. It has gone through a solid wall leaving no evidence of its entry. And ante-room good sized rocks came through the ceiling above them, and struck them on the head. Although the children saw the rocks and felt the blow, they could not see any hole in the ceiling for the rocks to come through. Last night several "plucky" young men watched the premises, but the ghost did not put in its appearance. The effort to solve the mystery has, thus far, proved unavailing. Of course the excitement is intense.

A WARNING.

An Illinois paper utters a warning. People at this season should look out for the large worm which infests tomato vines. It sting is deadly poison. It is of a green color, two or three inches long and as large as a man's finger. At Red Creek, Wayne county, a few days ago, a servant girl, while gathering tomatoes, received a puncture from one of these worms, which created a sensation similar to that of a bee sting. In a short time the poison penetrated to every part of her system, and she was thrown into spasms which ended in death.

A Crop that 'Never Surrenders.'

Under this heading, a contributor to the Mobile Tribune, says: The persimmon, never alluded to except as a standing joke on north Carolina or the State of Baldwin, is nevertheless a tree of great value, who intrinsic merits will be one day recognized, and when the South is supplied with a more intelligent and industrious class of farmers, will be made by them a source of much profit at little expense. Few persons are aware that there are many varieties of persimmon, ripening from August to December. In Mobile county, they can be found varying from the size of a pigeon's egg, to that of a walnut. The writer has a tree producing seedless fruit, of an excellent quality, and fair size. It ripens in August or September.

Seedless persimmons are not very rare, and can easily be propagated by grafting. As to its value of stock, there is no question, and when we consider that ten bushels is not a large yield for a moderate sized tree, that a tree will contain one hundred trees, and require little care, except to get them well started for the first two or three years, it is easy to see we have the means of providing, with little trouble and cost, an unfailing and large amount of rich food for pigs and poultry during four months of the year. Persimmons are, of all fruits, perhaps the richest in saccharine matter, and therefore of alcohol; they are, by distillation, a very fine brandy, not inferior at all to that produced from the peach or apple. The facility with which this tree can be raised, its adaptation to the sandiest as well as to boggy soils, its great yield, and the fact that it never fails at a crop, are sufficient reasons to commend it to intelligent farmers.
